Performance Summary
September - November 2020

TRADEDOCTORS.COM

Dear Subscribers,

As we enter the last month of this extraordinary year, we'd like to take a few minutes to recap the last 3 months with you.

2020 will forever be remembered as the pandemic year but also as the year of change. Working from home will no longer be a perk but rather an expectation as individuals become accustomed to careers involving zero commute and cheaper rent. Doves of people have been leaving city centers in the search of more space and cheaper accommodations. Rural property prices have spiked as a result and are expected to continue increasing as commutes are eliminated and businesses adopt better technology to facilitate working from home.

For traders, the last 3 months have been abundant in trading opportunities. Our signal performance is back above our company target of 30% as we continue developing our cross-asset hedging strategies and continue making improvements to our signal producing algorithms.

High level statistics

182 signals were sent in the last 3 months and 76% of those signals resulted in an order being executed.

Our traders caught the larger trend on numerous positions, one that sticks out in particular is 10X Genomics Inc with an increase of nearly 30%.

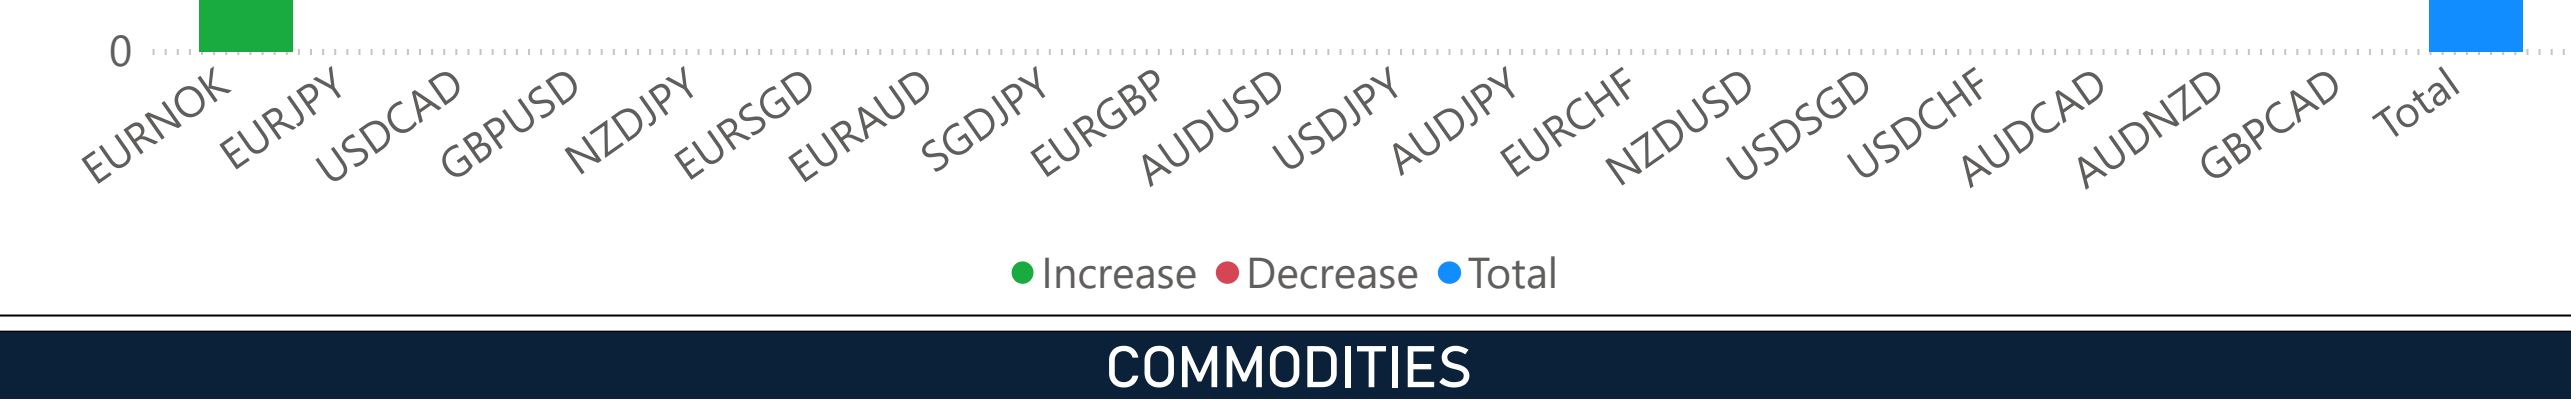

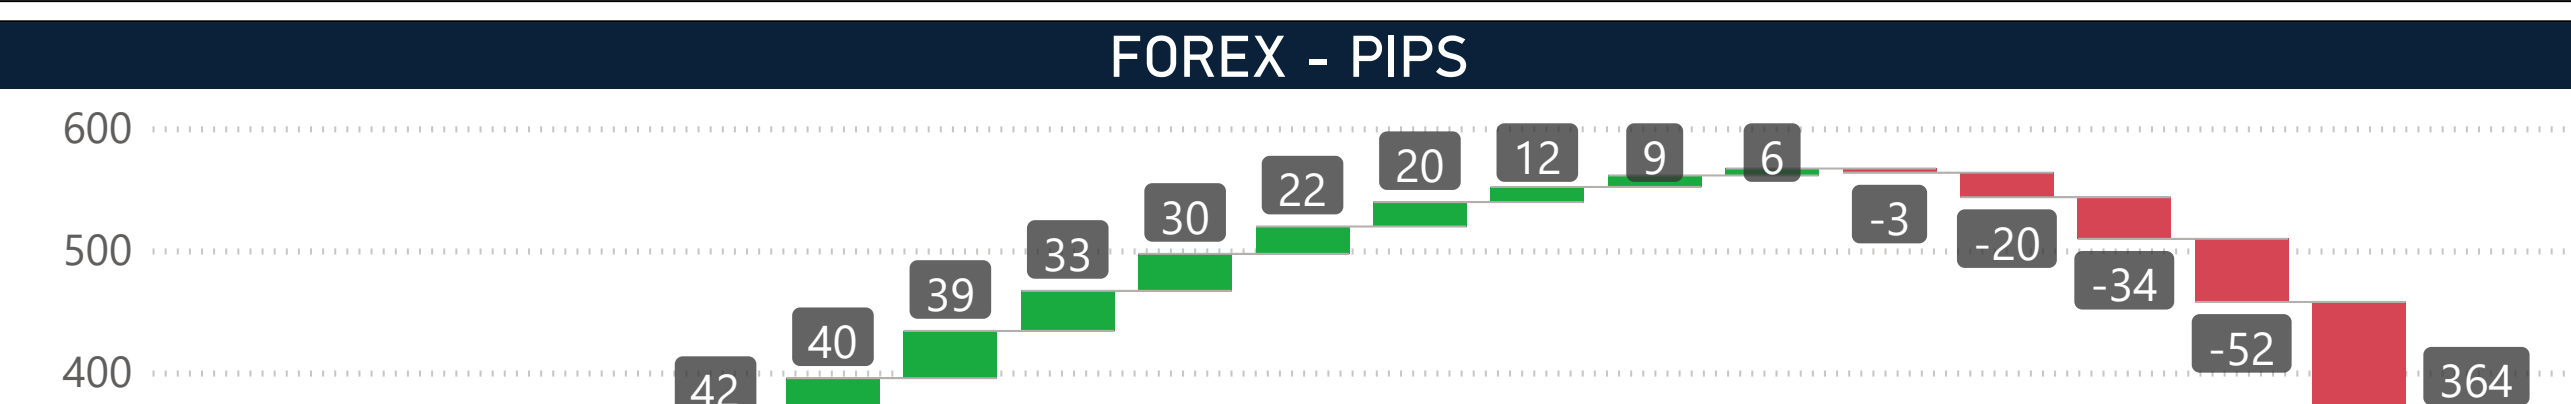

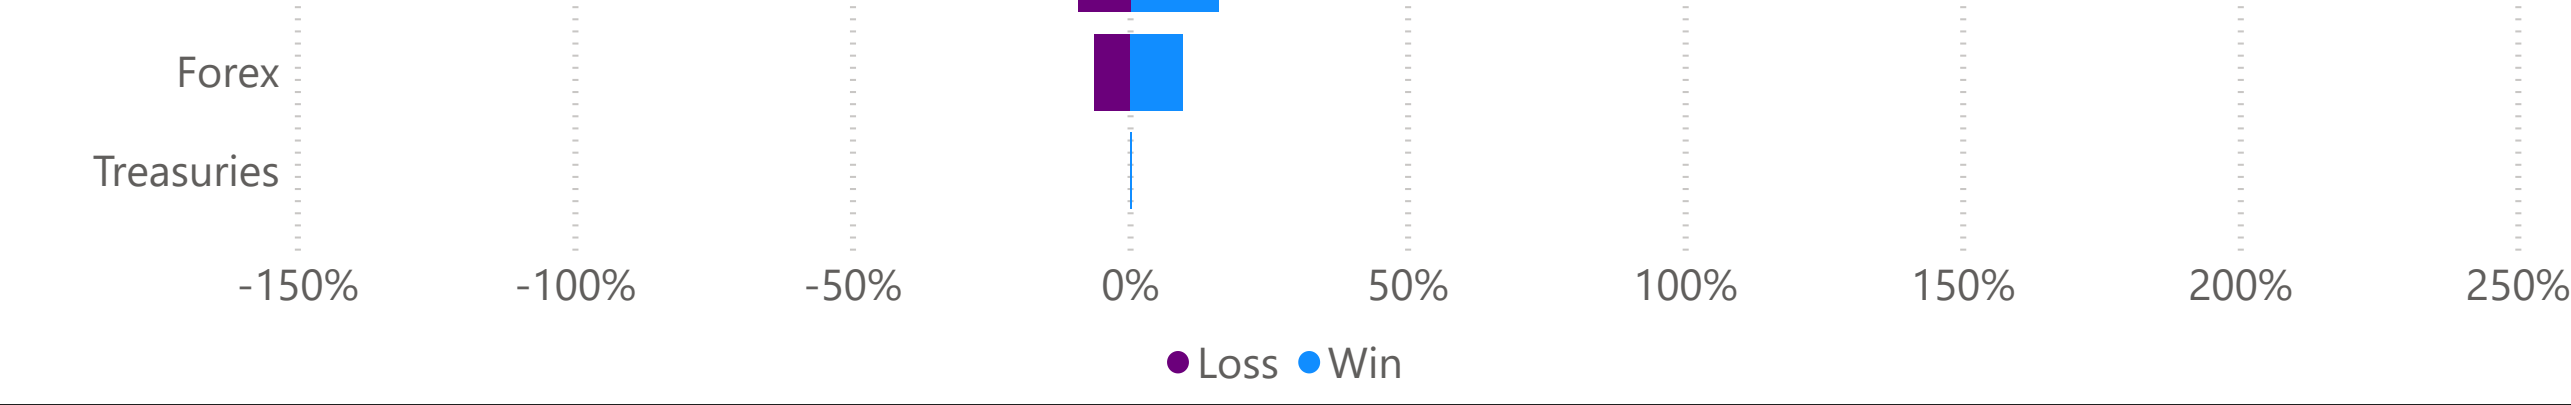

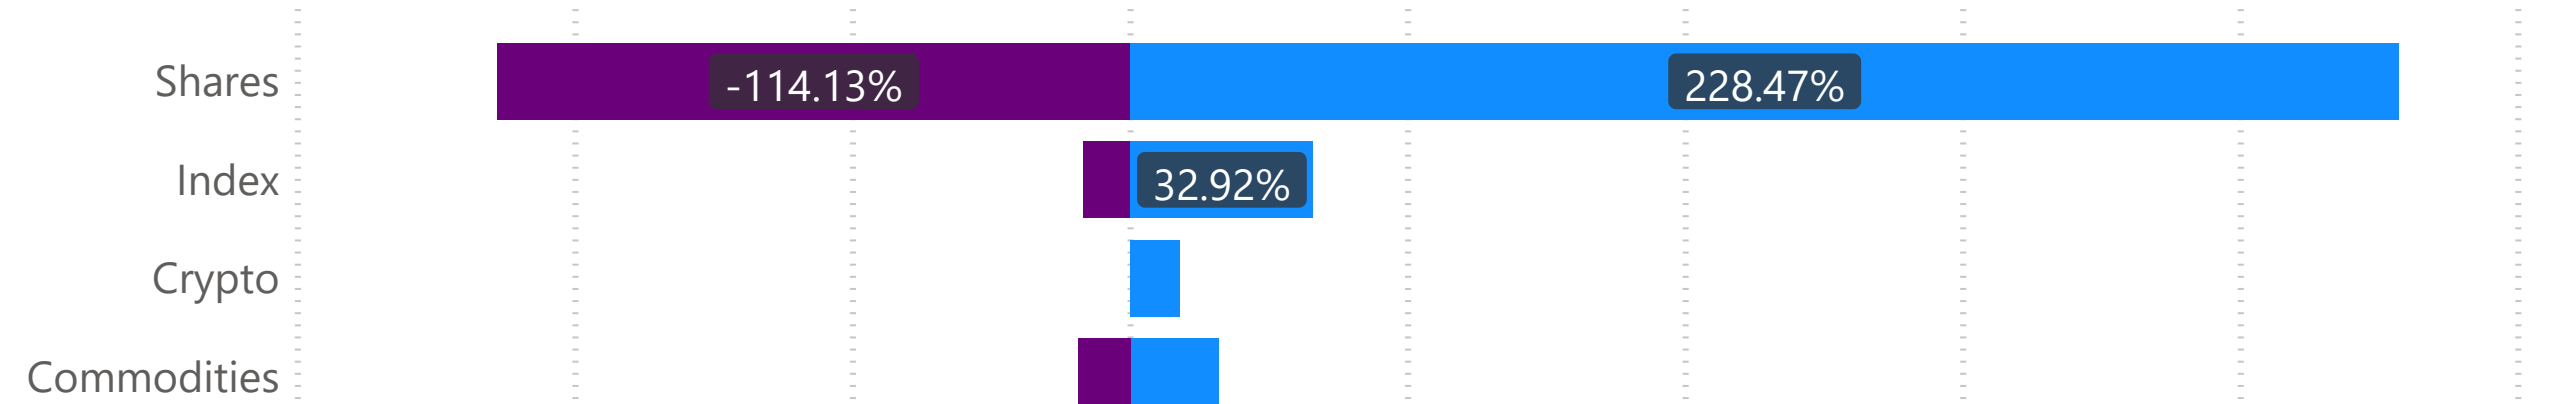

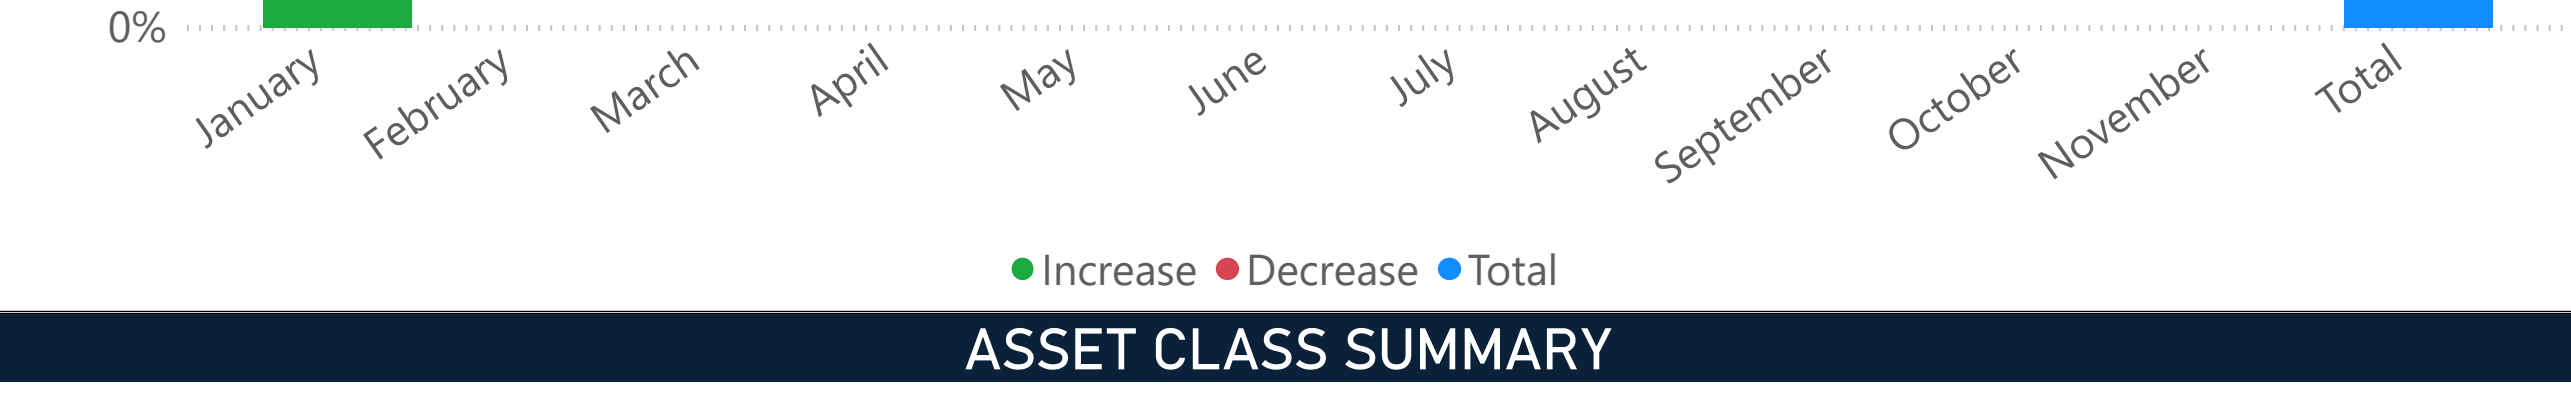

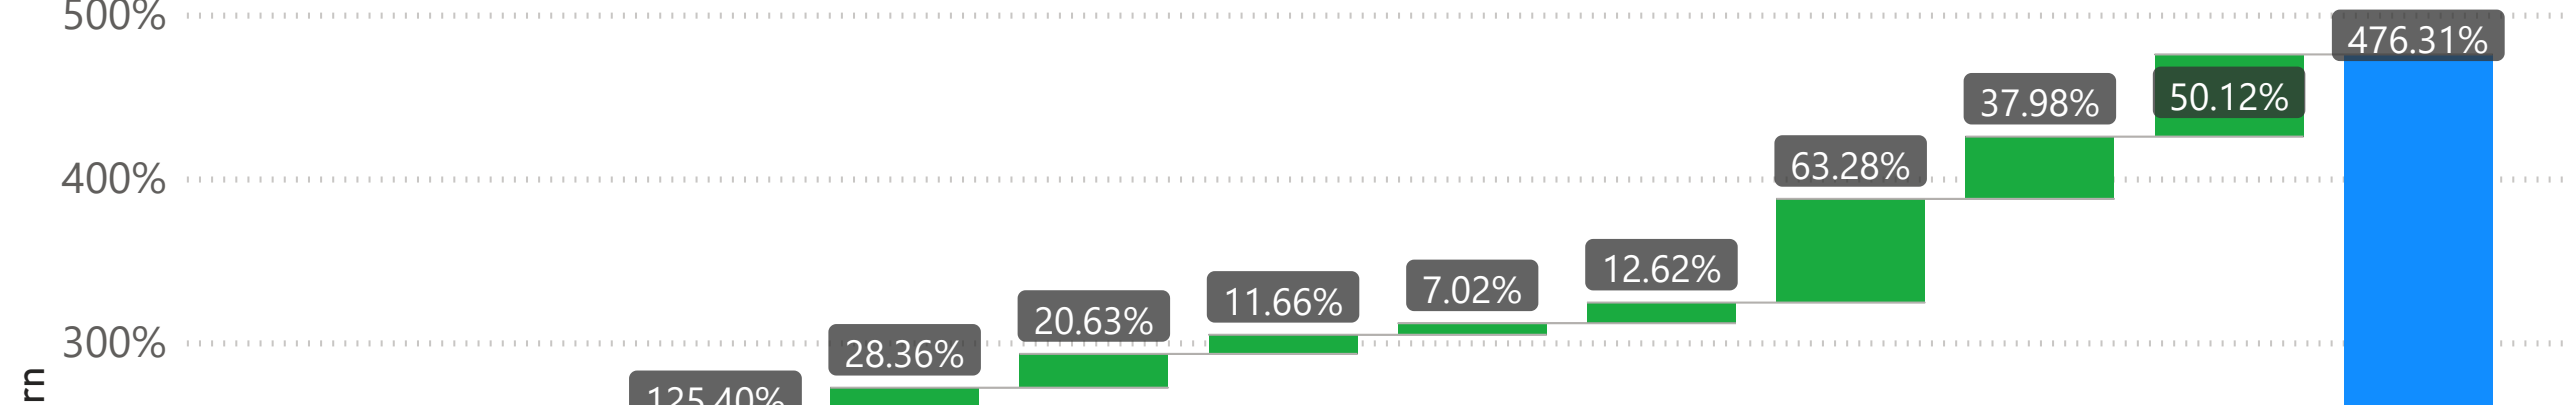

The newly launched webinar program for current students has been extremely well received. During this webinar, a professional trader goes through our 6-part essentials course in detail and answers student questions as they are asked. Additionally, every webinar session teaches renowned scalping techniques that are used by professional traders everyday.

Also of great importance, Bitcoin posted a new historical high at the end of November 2020 as it approached 20,000 USD per coin for the 2nd time in history.

The next few months are sure to be ripe with opportunities and we look forward to increasing our efforts and introducing new programs to help our subscribers.

We are honoured and privileged to be able to assist you.
